THE AUDITORIUM.

To the Auditorium next week will ome another first class bill contaming wo feature acts, the Airona-Zoeller Froupe of comedy acrobats and one of he funniest sketches in vaudeville to day, played by Mr. H. Percy Pollock and Miss Thelma Anglin, performers of much ability in their respective lines. The vehicle used by these talented artists is entitled A Bad Actor. This sketch has been entrusiastically received throughout the country and is recognized as one of valideville's hits. The Alrona-Zoeller Troupe have arranged a knowledge trophylic art that

The Airona-Zoeller Troupe have arranged a knockabout acrobatic act that has a first rate average of novelty. Ordinarily the woman in a mixed acrobatic act "cheats" by holding Back and letting the men do the hard work and contenting herself with being a stage decoration, but it is not so in this case. The clown takes comedy falls recklessly and the straight tumbler puts over many routines of clean, ler puts over many routines of clean bler puts over many routines of clean, smooth work on the mat.

A character comedicane of much ability is Grace Orma, who will contribute her share of amusement to the patrons of the Auditorium next week.

One of the best single acts playing this circuit is George S. Banks, who will put over the footlights his original line of funny patter and disperse with songs of the humorous order. He also dances.

BROADWAY THEATER.

The Servant in the House.

One night a year ago last March here fluttered to the desks of the reliewers of the morning papers of the other church country a sheet of telegraphic report on the first production of a new play n Washington—a play that none of the correspondents seemed able to classify; it was not a comedy, and it was extremely daring, and yet it was reverent; it attacked the church, and yet the voice of Christ spoke in it; it vgs symbolical, and yet it dealt vig-rously and directly with the most cute questions of the day; it preached ocialism and it preached the restament, too, and the corresp nts were not certain that Christ was not one of the characters in it, though he character that might be so identi-led was in reality an English bishop from India who appeared incognito for a few hours as a servant in the house of an English clerzyman. The next lay some of the New York managers and reviewers who had gone to Wash-ington to attend the premiere got back to their desks and the reports they made amazed their brethren who had And it is the history of The Servant in the House, which comes to the Broadway theater this evening.

BREED THEATER.

"Dashed to Death," Thrilling Automo-bile Picture.

A wonderful picture that eclipses all of the predecessors for variety of scenes, quickness of action and novelly of subject. Is now being shown at the Breed theater, and is entitled Deshed to Death. A young heiress of American birth is married to a title. and leaves for her foreign nome, on her marriage day, leaving behind a lover that has all the essentials of a good husbend minus the title. Once she is settled in her new home with her polic husband, he commences to abuse her, and at last, trainted and insulted to the limit, she cables her old time lover of the circumstances, and he immediately leaves for the seat of difficulties. He arrives in the city and proceeds to the address of the new wife. He writes access to the nay wife. He gains access to the house innoticed and witnesses a domestic war in progress. His American pride is nettled, and he immediately gives the brutal husband a genuine thrashing, afterwards driving him and of the house into the garden where Model Ranges unter thrashing, afterwards driving him out of the house into the garden, where the viliain jumps into his auto, and the pursuing American jumps into another, starting one of the flercest automobiles races ever photographed, On and on they dash until the villain sees no other alternative, and beading his machine for the cliffs, he rides wildly over it, and the closing scene shows the machine dash over the precipies. the machine dash over the precipice strike a crag part way down, when the boiler explodes, blowing the ma-chine to the foot of the cliffs, where the gasoline tanks burst, burning the remainder of the machine to ashes.

Arrangements have been made to handle all the American Vitagraph company's feature films, beginning on Monday, October 11th, which will assure the best possible results. Mr. Held featured the Vitagraph when he was here three years ago at the Auditorium and was successful in pleasing the public and he hopes to do the same again. Beginning Monday three performances a day will be given instead of two. Matinee at 2.30, evening performance will run continuously from formance will run continuously from 7.30 to 10 p. m.
